A23	Two Bottles of Red - 2013 The Prisoner, and 2012 Primus	$150	The 2013 Prisoner is one of the most glorified red wines on the American scene, and packed with plenty of power; loaded with ripe berries, sweet oak, subtle dust and earth. A little bit of leather sneaks in as well, this remarkable wine has captured so many American wine drinkers. Could very well be the best choice with a nicely grilled, well marbled ribeye of beef. The 2012 Primus Cabernet is an elegant wine with plum and cassis aromas that lead to rich and ripe red berry flavors. The grapes are hand-picked, double sorted, fermented and left on the skins after fermentation to extract deep color and rich flavors. Pairs well with all meats, tomato-based pasta sauces, flavorful and hearty dishes.	Diana Schumaker
